Filmmakers serve as vital cultural guardians, capturing the nuances of our shared humanity and providing a mirror to society when clear perspectives are needed most. By championing their creative vision, Europe safeguards its democratic values, fosters cross-border empathy, and ensures that diverse, independent voices are not silenced by global conflict or commercial pressures.

Investing in our directors means protecting the very freedom of expression that defines and unites the European continent. Today, pan-European co-productions and deep artistic solidarity are no longer just practical choices, but the vital foundation required to create meaningful cinema that resonates across borders.
